

The 50 Most Beautiful Shops in the World

From Morocco and Mexico to Palm Beach and Portugal, our editors found the 50 best brick-and-mortar boutiques.

ROMAIN RICARD

This year, our editors scoured streets from Morocco and Mexico to Palm Beach and Portugal with discerning eyes for not only outstanding products but also spectacular shopping experiences. Imagine: You're strolling the sidewalk of Lisbon, Los Angeles, or somewhere in between when a window display catches your eye. Upon crossing the shop's threshold, you find yourself whisked into the proprietor's magical world, exploring a well-appointed wonderland as opulent as its offerings. And off you go, collecting one-of-a-kind finds that serve as reminders of the city.

Our editors focused on brick-and-mortar shops with a beautiful curation of products from antique to artisanal. Discover a verdant greenhouse packed with seasonal plants in New York's Hudson Valley; study Sicilian ceramics in the heart of New Orleans; browse bespoke tableware in London; model contemporary fashions in Rome; and more. You'll also find galleries paying homage to their decorative histories (like a Swedish destination that honors a rich textile legacy) as well as outposts preserving local vernacular with reimagined concepts (like a historic pavilion hall turned into a chic boutique). Read on for VERANDA's 2022 Most Beautiful Shops in the World—the thrills of the hunt await.

Dixon Rye

Location: Atlanta, Georgia

Look to Dixon Rye, set in the heart of Atlanta's design district, for an extraordinary mix of tabletop (like their extensive collection of Parisian ceramics by Astier de Villatte), handsome upholstery, and heirloom furnishings. The inspiring vignettes curated by proprietor Bradley Odom transport customers into a well-appointed southern home.
